3. We will be open to all ideas brought to the discussion by others.
4. We will focus on the possibilities, not the obstacles.
5. We will be curious, surprised, and allow our thinking provoked.
6. We will take responsibility for our organization's commitments and follow through.
7. We will encourage others with support, not pressure.
8. We will acknowledge the contributions of others and appreciate their greatness.
9. We will try to suspend our own judgments, certainties, and assumptions and investigate openly the ideas and concepts presented by others.
10. We will be receptive to feedback and willing to change our thoughts, opinions, and behaviors through discussion and consensus.
11. We will have fun and not take ourselves too seriously.
12. We will work to accomplish consensus across the range of discussion points and complex issues.
